About This Game

You've been sent to the 13th floor of a long abandoned hotel. Abandoned, that is, save for one remaining resident.

Your task is simple - complete your assigned challenges and make it to the elevator before your camera's batteries run dry. But beware: the Occupant knows you're here...and it's hunting you. Keep your wits about you and you might just survive.

-Use headphones for best experience.

Features:
-20 challenging goals set in a claustrophobic environment
-A haunting soundtrack and found-footage presentation
-Beautiful graphics

I liked the premise of the game. Created a good spooky mood. However, the game is a bit too easy to beat, and the occupant is easy to get away from and avoid, which reduces the scariness level. You spend more time worrying about where the items are than where the occupant is. I think the game is a good start, but can be more successful with some additional wrinkles to increase difficulty. Game was fun, however.
